The Morgan County District Attorney's Worthless Check Unit assists merchants in collecting the full face value of a check plus a service fee based on Alabama's Worthless Check Statute. The Unit provides materials and information to merchants to start the collection process and assists in screening the information provided by the merchant to obtain a warrant. Experienced investigators are assigned to locate and handle all negotiations with the check writer and, when necessary, to arrest and prosecute the offenders.

Processing Checks for Prosecution

The responsibility of the merchant in recovering a bad check is to notify the check writer and then to wait for payment. If there is no response from the check writer, the Worthless Check Unit is then able to assist the merchant in the collection process by:

- Assessing the criminal liability
- Assisting the merchant in signing a complaint
- Obtaining a warrant
- Locating the defendant
- Attempting to negotiate a settlement
- Arresting the bad check writer
- Taking the person to trial
